- A Drug that is in high demand the FDA puts on a shortage list then it is given the green light to make.
- Any pharmacy can compound for a patient specific prescription. Outsourcing facilities produce in bulk.

- If a drug is patented, a copy cannot be made unless it's on the FDA shortage list.
- The patent holder is required to sell the ingredient by law if the drug is on the FDA shortage list.

Presentation: Dawn Morton-Rias, Ed.D., PA-C, ICE-CCP, FACHE, NCCPA President and CEO, reports on PA-C Practice Patterns and Certifications.

- National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA) primary focus is to ensure that the PA-C credential represents the profession's commitment to high standards.
- NCCPA tracks PA CMEs which are 100 hours of CME every two years.
- PAs do change specialties during their career. At least 53% have changed specialties at least once.
- There are 29 accredited PA programs in NY. NY ranks number 1 in the number of PAs practicing. PAs must graduate from an accredited program and pass PANCE to obtain certification.
- Every 10 years PAs sit for a recertification process to re-access knowledge base.
- New assessment model, PANRELA, was developed as a new assessment model in addition to the PANCE. PANRELA is a national standardized evaluation. It provides more time to answer questions, 12 quarters to complete 8 quarters. PAs can stop the exam without losing anything and can take up to three years to complete a two-year process.
- CAQ is an added credential in a specialty that does not replace PA-C. CAQ is voluntary. At this time only 3226 hold the CAQ in the country.
